Tamil Canadians condemn attack on Canadian Embassy

Toronto- The Canadian Tamil Congress is concerned about reports of vandalism at the Canadian Embassy in Sri Lanka, where protestors have sprayed graffiti and pelted the establishment with stones.

“We condemn any vandalism of property,” said David Poopalapillai, spokesperson for the Canadian Tamil Congress. “Canada is a symbol of hope, peace and equality for millions around the world and we, Tamil Canadians, see this as an attack on these principles.”

“If the Canadian embassy can be attacked with this impunity, imagine what happens to the ordinary Tamil civilians who have no protection at all,” said Mr. Poopalapillai. “We urge the Canadian government to pressure the Sri Lankan government to bring these culprits to justice.”
