Canadian Tamil Congress Endorses the Drop the Fees Campaign

TORONTO – The Canadian Tamil Congress (CTC) is endorsing the Drop the Fees Campaign, which calls for improved access and quality in post-secondary education.

Tamil Canadians are proud to stand behind a campaign, which actively works towards improving access for every student who wants to go to university.

“We firmly believe post-secondary education should be accessible to all families in Ontario. Family income should not be an impediment for our youngsters to pursue a bright career in their life,” said David Poopalapillai, National Spokesperson for the Canadian Tamil Congress.

Members of the Tamil Canadian community will also participate in the November 5th Day of Action and aim to raise awareness about the need for improvements to the post-secondary education system.

The Drop the Fees Campaign aims, among other things, to increase Ontario’s per-student funding for post-secondary education above the national average.
